

Australian Pigeon Company Website.

My veterinary practice has been sold to 3 other avian vets , Dr Pat Macwhirter, Dr Matt Gosbell and Dr Lee Peacock. They will now be doing all of the pigeon clinical work including diagnostics such as autopsies and blood and dropping tests. The Australian Pigeon Company and myself will now operate out of my factory in Bayswater ( a Melbourne suburb about 5 k from the clinic ). The supply of pigeon products to fanciers remains unaltered but the number to ring for pigeon orders has changed. Fanciers should now ring the Australian Pigeon Company directly on 0450 400 034. I am also rewriting the Australian Pigeon Company website. The new site contains much current veterinary information and became live last week. This month's homepage topic is PMV vaccination. I would like to make all CCF members aware of the new number for ordering and also of the new web address. To access all areas of the website, including the information about prescription medication the password is "pigeonloft". Even though I am retired CCF members are always welcome to ring me for advice.
